COMMENT OF THE DAY

FIHE United Nations economists who

1 have devised a plan to produce enormous capital investment in underdeveloped countries are not utopians.

What they demonstrated was that a vast proportion of the world's population are greatly in need of economic aid and could be greatly helped if conditions were favourable. In a 108-page document these eminent scholars take account of the difficulties as well as the opportunities. The great obstacle is that there is no sure peace in the world and that consequently the free countries

must spend on armament many billions of dollars that could otherwise be released for constructive foreign investment. This pressure for expenditures for defence is caused by the aggressive

activities of a nation which represents itself as the friend of the common man.

The U. N. experts did not suggest that the equivalent of US$19,000,000,000 a year be poured out without question by

the United Nations or by Governments or by private investors. What is actually needed seems to be about

US$10,000,000,000 a year of capital

imports into the underdeveloped countries, of which about 80 per cent should go to countries of South Central Asia and the Far East. The total sum amounts to somewhat less than 3 per cent of the annual incomes of the nations of Western Europe, Australasia,

the 'United States' and Canada. Of course the United States through one agency or another would be the largest investor.' The economists face up to some of the inherent difficulties of such investments. No country can get ahead economically unless its people are willing to make the necessary sacrifices

-which is not always the case. As suggest that rapid progress in some countries cannot take place "until a social revolution has effected a shift in the distribution of income and power."

We take it they mean a peaceful revolution such as generally takes place

when there is a great 'technological advance. They may also believe-though they do not explicitly say so-

that the fake reforms of communism

will have to be counteracted by real reforms encouraged by the democracies.

Parachute Brigade Likely To Closer Relations Be Flown To Middle East

London, May 24. The British government will announce soon, probably within 24 hours, the departure of the 16th Independent Parachute Brigade Group from England for somewhere in the Middle East.

> The Brigade has been alerted for more than one week because of the Iranian crisis, and started a 72-hour "embarkation leave" on Wednesday.

> The Brigade, numbering 4,000 to 5,000 men, will not go to Iran but will go into what the British call the "pipeline" of troops that extends from here to the Middle East, to South-east Asia and to Korea.

British Attitude On NATO

London, May 24. Britain is considering the admission of Greece and Turkey to membership of the North Atlantic Treaty with utmost sympathy, a spokesman of Foreign Office stated today.

The British Government did not disagree in principle to the admission of the two countries, he said, but she had to satisfy herself that any decision taken was in co-ordination with general considerations of Middle Eastern defence. -Reuter.

The expert plan, as Sam Fry points out to his pupils, is not to draw trumps until the last possible moment. As you go along, you may have to press the queen of hearts, but is quite possible

At the first trick the queen of clubs is finessed, losing to East's diamonds, whereupon South takes the acc of diamonds and all the top cards in the side suits: the acc of clubs, the ace of spades, and the king of spades. South then gives up a spade trick and lets the opponents carry the ball for a

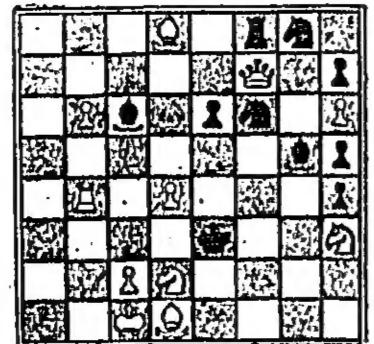

They can take their third defensive trick, a diamond, but then must hand control back to declarer. One way or another, South rufts a diamond in dummy and a club in his own hand. In the process, he should find out that East has length in both diamonds and clubs. It is therefore clear that East is quite short in trumps, and South can take the trump finesse through West on the basis of knowledge rather than guess-

HONGKONG GETS READY FOR ITS FIRST TEST STRENGTH AT BADMINTON

By "ARGONAUT"

In a few days' time Hongkong will receive its first postwar test in a representative bad minton match when we will face a strong challenge by a visiting team from the Philippines.

Although the match will be in the nature of an unofficial interport, in view of the fact that it is only the Philippine Chinese Badminton Club and not, an official Philippine side that will be coming over, the visitors will include in their ranks as guest players three National champions of the Philippines, and the result of this encounter will give a fairly accurate comparison of the standard of the game in Hongkong and the Philippines as a whole.

The Philippine shuttlers have notified the local Association that they will be arriving in Hongkong some time next week and the unofficial interport match has been fixed for May 30 and June 1.

Two Special Stamps Commemorate The Festival Of Britain

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Post Office is commemorating the Festival of Britain by issuing two special postage stamps of the 21/2d. and 4d.

Both stamps are of double the normal size, that is, the same size as the stamps which were issued to commemorate the 75th Anniversary of the Universal Postal Union in 1949.

Conference On Food Supplies

London, May 24. An important conference to discuss the threat to world food supplies caused by insect pests and disease is to be held in London and the Home Counties this summer. It will be attended by over 'a hundred of the agricultural world's · leading scientists. Among ropresentatives from the Colonies will be Mr Harold Page, Principal of the Imperial College of Agricul-ture, Trinidad.

The conference, which is to extend over three days, opens on June 26. It will fill the breach caused by the postponement of the International Congress of Crop Protection which wan scheduled for Paris this year. In addition it will provide the opportunity to demonstrate during the Festival of Britain the contribution made by British scientists to world agricul-

An inaugural luncheon will be held at the Dorchester Rotel in London on June 25 when the delegates will be addressed by the Earl of Listowel, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture, Sir John Anderson and Viscount Bruce of Melbourne.

The following day the con-ference will move to Fernhurst Research Station, Haslomere, Surrey, where the opening address will be delivered by Sir John Russell, a former head of the Rothamsted Research Station and Chairman of the Agricultural Sub-Committee of UNRRA.

Outstanding scientists from over 20 Commonwealth and foreign countries have signified their intention of taking part.—London Express Service.

Conference Examine Ethics Of Advertising

London, May 24, More and more advertising throughout the world are becoming aware of the social responsibility of their work. This theme will be developed at an international advertising conference to be held in London from July 7 to 13.

The discussion will follow four main headings; advertising's help in promotion of world trade and understanding; advertising's extension of its service to the consumer; advertising's improvement methods in its education, reeruitment and training; and ndvertising's further development of standards of ethics and practice.

The scene of the only comparable previous international advertising convention was Wembley (London) in 1924, the year of the British Empire Exhibition there, Following that conference, the Advertising Association of Great Britain was formed in 1926. In this, the 25th year of its existence, it is organising a second Internation-at Conference, coinciding with the Festival of Britain. Attending the conference will be about 2,500 delegates from more than 35 countries who will also participate in an extensive social programme including organised tours of Britain. Refineries

BUT SUPPLY STOPPAGE BY IRAN COULD BE SERIOUS MATTER

The most remarkable feature of the United Kingdom oil consumption figures for 1950, published by the Petroleum Information Bureau, is Chart readers, favouring the the extent to which they show how British refinery downside, admitted that Octoproduction is now increasing, says the Financial line might be enough for the Consumption of all kinds of oil rose by 10 per before considering reversal of cent last year. But the output of United Kingdom | their position. refineries rose from 6.2m. tons in 1949 to 9.3m. tons quickly under the impact of conin 1950—or by 50 per cent.

The long-term plan for oil refining envisages an increase in capacity to 20m. tons by 1952-53, and the current increase is the second substantial dividend from this plan.

The change in the pattern of production here has, of course, changed the pattern of imports as well.

As might be expected imports of crude oil have been increasing sharply, while there has been a relative decline in imports of petroleum products.

In 1948 the United Kingdom imported 1,174m. gallons of crude oil at a cost of £31.1m. by 1950 the quantity had risen to 2,377m, gallons while the cost had gone up to £74.5m.

On the other hand the quantity the morning's transactions;—of motor spirit rose only from 1,183m, gallons to 1,221m, gallons -though with higher prices the cost rose from £46.8m. to £59.5m. At the same time imports of fuel oil fell sharply.

Between 1948 and 1950 the quantity of fuel oil imported fell DOCKS, ETC. by roughly 60 per cent while the cost declined from £35.6m, to > per cent of United Kingdom supplies in 1948 and 38 per cent in 1950. But the supplies from Iran have been growing, too, In 1948 just over one-fifth of crude oil imports came from Iran; by 1950 the proportion had risen to over one-quarter.

> It is clear that if the trouble in Persia were to boil over, if the Persian Government were to go to the length of stopping crude oil supplies altogether, it would be in the short run a serious matter for Britain.

Production elsewhere could no doubt be expanded; and in present circumstances the dollars could be found to pay for it, if dollars were needed. But since other countries, and notably the United States, would also be seeking to switch their purchases, it could not be an easy matter.

IMPORTANCE OF ABADAN

In spite of the increased refinery capacity in Britain and elsewhere in Europe, a crisis in Persia would be most serious in its effects on world refinery capacity. With world consumption of petroleum increasing, refinery capacity is already the limiting factor.

At present, Britain depends on Iran, which means the refinery at Abadan, for over 'a third of its kerosine imports, a fifth of its motor-spirit imports and almost a half of its fuel-oil imports.

If for any reason capacity at Abadan should be neutralised the extra demand on the total remaining refining capacity which a switch of this magnitudo would involve could not accommodated at short

In the long run the Persian Government cannot afford not to sell its oil. Whatever the pussions, of the moment, this cardinal economic factor is bound to make itself felt. This is the weakness of the Persian Government's bargaining position. It would be most unwise, however, not to recognise Per lb. SWEDISH HINT OF SOVIET PEACE FEELERONKOREA

New York, May 24. Sweden relayed information to the United Nations two weeks ago from "a Russian source" that the Kremlin would consider settlement of the Korean war along the 38th Parallel as acceptable, it was disclosed today.

However, the Swedes were unable to say whether the "Russian source" was official or was in a position to reflect accurately the Kremlin's sentiments toward Korean war settlement.
